About EW

At Everett Worthington we have been designing furniture for Australians by Australians over the last 60 years. Established in 1947 by 3 American ex-Servicemen, initially manufacturing radio cabinets for AWA, Kriesler and AGE. Prior to the Melbourne Olympics in 1956 Everett Worthington began to produce television cabinets for Admiral. During the 1960s production of bedroom furniture for the youth and children market started. This continued into the 70s and 80s adding occasional furniture to the range.

From our early beginnings, we have continued to place emphasis designing functional and stylish furniture and are constantly developing new designs to suit your home entertainment needs.

Our commitment to quality and reliability has also remained the same. This is reinforced through our 1-year warranty, offering you peace of mind and proof of quality.

This catalogue proudly presents Everett Worthington's latest range of home entertainment and storage furniture especially designed to accommodate the new generation of electronics and home design.

Enjoy.
